KEEPING THEM AT HOME.

The reason why Kentuckians leave home, according to the Bowling Green Messenger, "is because we are over-crowded with men and shy on business and industrial pursuits." Then again, the same authority says Kentuckians always have been "a restless lot." It is the Messenger's opinion that "if we who believe in the State and its resources will get behind the movement to develop the State's industries and then encourage the young men to stay, there ought to be a curtailment of the exodus to the West." This is all true. The State Journal believes the movement for better farming will be of great benefit in inducing Kentuckians to stay at home. If the children, for instance learned something about scientific agriculture in the schools not so many of them perhaps would care to leave the farm. There now are better agricultural opportunities than ever before. Farming is a man's job and we greatly need farmers with brains and business acumen.—State Journal.

OH, SUCH BEAUTIFUL LANGUAGE!

In a newspaper friendly to Congressman Augustus Owsley Stanley we find this extract from one of his celebrated orations:

"For centuries neither the telescope of the astronomer nor the researches of science could solve the mystery of that misty light, that glimmering gossamer encircling the black brow of night; but at last the spectrum revealed in this nebula unborn worlds, held in a shimmering gauze; revolving masses of incandescent gas, cooling through the passing cycles of time, growing denser without, shrinking within, forming smoky concentric circles, a whirling luminous fog, congealing into molten rings drawn by their own gravity into rude globes and these spinning spheres shaped by the plastic hand of Divinity, like clay upon a potter's wheel, into planets and their satellites, new solar systems, swinging for the first time into their orbits in the trackless, fathomless, depths above. Thus God peoples the heavens' luminous worlds."

That is what we would call some langwidge, Owsley.

If them words can't elect a man to the United States Senate there is no use calling on the dictionary for help.—Lexington Leader.

ENFORCE THE LAWS AND THE DRUNKS WILL DISAPPEAR

In a prohibition town or any other town, the appearance of a drunken man on the streets is "disorderly" and he should be arrested and locked up. Last Saturday there were some particularly offensive cases in the prohibition town of Cynthia. To lock a "drunk" behind the bars and affix the accompanying fine, or season on the rock pile, will have a salutary effect on that particular individual and also on other individuals who may be inclined to offend in the same way. There are sufficient laws to correct, or check, almost any evil if the laws are properly enforced.—Cynthia Democrat.

POLITICAL PICKINGS.

(Pittsburg Gazette-Times)

Perhaps if the President had it to do over again he would not raise that recent embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition into Mexico.

(St. Louis Republic.)

Vice President Marshall is not the first man who ever wondered why a Puritan did not believe in kissing his wife on Sunday.

(Kansas City Star.)

General Felix Diaz is now in New York where danger from gunmen is even greater than it is in Mexico.

(Springfield Republican.)

It is generous of Becker to promise not to make a fuss about the graft charges if the murder case is dropped.

(Detroit Free Press.)

If Villa is a Mexican patriot what would a Mexican traitor be like?

(Chicago News.)

Carranza must cease making Secretary Bryan look foolish.

ART AND A SAUSAGE KING.

Robert Henri, the eminent New York painter, was talking about those millionaires who buy, merely to show off, doubtful "old masters" at fabulous prices.

"Their knowledge of art," Mr. Henri said, "is about equal to that of the Chicago sausage manufacturer who said to Whistler:

"What would you charge to do me in oil?"

"Ten thousand," said Whistler promptly.

"But suppose I furnish the oil?" said the millionaire.

Correspondence

SPRINGDALE

Mr. Win Bowman was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Master Ward, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Davenport, who was so severely burned by the explosion of a toy engine a few weeks ago is now thought to be recovering under the care of Dr. Taylor of Maysville.

Mr. A. G. Cole moved his family from Fearnis, Lewis County, to this place last Wednesday. He occupied the Mefford property on Main street.

A car load of hay has been received by Mr. Wilson and farmers near and far are hauling it away.

Mr. Robert Girvin, moved with his family Wednesday to Higginsport, O., and will reside on the handsome farm purchased by his brother, Mr. Carl Girvin, late of Cody, Wyoming.

Mr. Fred Leming is in Cincinnati taking special treatment for lung trouble. In addition to other valuable property lost by Mr. Snead when his box cars burned here recently was a pocket-book containing two hundred dollars in paper money.

Mr. G. W. Hook and sons were business visitors in Maysville Wednesday.

There was much lamentation of the loss of the roll of Public Ledger's due this place last Saturday when the mail sack was ground to pieces by the car wheels. The mail sacks are carelessly tossed from the train at this place, sometimes it goes over the river bank and the agent has to search for it. This seems to be criminal carelessness on the part of some one.

TWINS CUT APART

Both Are Doing Well—French Surgeons Perform Delicate Operation On Baby Girls In Paris.

Paris. — Madeleine-Suzanne, the French "Siamese twins," were separated today by a surgical operation of extreme delicacy. The operation was performed with specially constructed instrument by Dr. Gustave Le Pelletier, Dr. Risacher and Dr. Victor de Launay and his wife, who also is a surgeon. Numerous other surgeons were present.

Madeleine-Suzanne were joined together in the region of the stomach, and it was found that a portion of the intestines of Madeleine was within Suzanne's abdomen. This had to be detached from the wall of the fibrous cartilaginous bridge connecting the two children.

A local anesthetic was used and the babies cried a little during the operation, which lasted fifteen minutes.

Both children appeared to stand the operation well, but the surgeons could not give a definite opinion as to the ultimate success of their work.
